AGED INDIAN LEADER DEFIES BRITISH RULE BY MAKING
SALT FROM SEA WATER

DANDI Punjab, India, April 7.—(P)—Police and a party of followers of Mahatma Gandhi engaged in a scuffle on the beach this morning.

While volunteers engaged in the civil disobedience campaign were collecting salt in defiance of the government monopoly, police arrived and demanded the salt, which the volunteers refused to hand over. During the altercation, a number of volunteers arrived at the beach and also began to collect salt.

Police then arrested the captain of the volunteers and others who had told the volunteers not to give up their salt. In the scuffle which followed two nationalists were reported slightly injured.

Mahatma Gandhi, who opened the civil disobedience campaign, arrived at Aat on the beach from Dandi shortly after the scuffle to observe his usual Monday silence and meditation.

In a speech written by him and read by a volunteer, Gandhi said he would come to Aat again tomorrow to collect salt with the

THREE-POWER AGREEMENT HAILED AS ACHIEVEMENT WELL WORTH CONFERENCE

LONDON, April 7.—(P)—American delegation quarters today emphasized the achievement of a prospective three power naval limitation treaty rather than failure to attain here a five power treaty.

Ambassador Gibson, veteran of the unsuccessful tripartite conference in 1924 by President Wilson and former governor of the federal reserve board, died here at 4:30 a. m. today.

He had been in poor health for more than a year and had been confined to his bed for three weeks. He made his home at the Algonquin Club.

HAWKS ARRIVED AT DESTINATION WITH NEW GLIDER RECORD

NEW YORK, April 7.—(P)—Captain Frank M. Hawks, holder of the east and west transcontinental speed records, enjoyed the additional distinction today of being the first aviator to plot a glider from coast to coast.

Arriving exactly on schedule, he set his small red motorless plane Ensign down in Van Cortlandt park at 4 p. m. yesterday to complete a flight from San Diego, towed at the end of a 500-foot cable behind a power plane, he made a transcontinental trip in six and one-half days with 36 hours actual flying time.

One mishap marred the trip, which was made in 38 hours. At Tucson, on the second day of the flight, a gust of wind parted the tow line as the aerial train was getting under way. To make up for the delay, his engineer, J. D. Jennings, pulled him 710 miles, two days' scheduled flight, the next day.

A crowd of 15,000 stood in the rain to see the finish of the 3000-mile glider trip. A fleet of army planes circled in formation above the park as an aerial reception committee.

ANNUAL PANHANDLE PLAINS DAIRY SHOW OPENS PLAINVIEW

PLAINVIEW, April 7.—(P)—The annual Panhandle-Plains Dairy Show, representing 54 counties, opened here today with a record number of entries. Three hundred and twenty-six animals were on hand. These included 266 Jerseys, 34 Guernseys and 26 Holsteins.

Judging contests for 4-H Club boys and vocational agriculture students were held today. R. C. Mowery of Texas Technological College, Lubbock, was in charge.

The many exhibits of dairy equipment, feed and farm machinery proved interesting to the large crowd attending the third annual show. Additional entries in the dairy products contest were received before the judges started.

K. M. Renner of Texas Tech was superintendent of that department.

E. W. Thomas, Hall county agent, was in charge of the production judging contest, also held today.

The Amarillo Globe-News offered $100 in prizes for that event. W. H. Fuqua of Amarillo offered a like sum in the 4-H Club judging competition in which 500 boys were expected to compete.

RUTH H. MCCORMICK BATTLES DENEEN FOR UPPER HOUSE PLACE

INTERESTING ANGLES TO ILLINOIS REPUBLICAN PRI- MARY ELECTION TUESDAY

BY R. H. HIPPELHEUSER
(Associated Press Staff Writer.)
CHICAGO, April 7.—(P)—United States Senator Charles S. Deneen and Ruth Hannah McCormick tossed the World Court into the Monday wash today. Tomorrow, Illinois republicans in thousands of primary election booths will iron it out.

Neither the senior senator nor the congresswoman allowed the usual day's lull before the ballot storm; both sought last-minute strength in Chicago with noon-day meetings, and both planned final statewide radio appeals tonight.

For the first time, a father and a mother oppose each other for a senate seat; again, as in 1926, Illinois voters will be the first to approve or refute an attack upon a World Court senator—again as in 1924 a Deneen, a McCormick and a Newton Jenkins meet in a republican senatorial primary; for the first time, the daughter and widow of a United States senator seeks to sit in the capitol wing where they sat.

Mrs. McCormick, the daughter of Mark Hanna, is the widow of the late Senator Medill McCormick. It was in 1924 that Deneen gained McCormick's seat by a plurality of less than 6,000 votes. In that race, Jenkins polled 115,000 votes, and political observers believed his unlooked-for activity made for McCormick's defeat.

World Court Opponent Wins.

In 1926, Illinois saw the first defeat of a senator who voted for the World Court, the late William B. McKinley. Frank L. Smith, who was thrice denied his senate seat and who seeks the republican nomination as congressman-at-large in tomorrow's primary, opposed the World Court in that primary campaign, and won with more than 100,000 votes to spare.

Again the world court is an issue, made so by Mrs. McCormick in an onslaught that carried her into every county in the state. Deneen accepted the challenge, and in an offensive no less wide-spread has defended his vote for American entrance into the court with five resolutions, saying it was because of party regularity. He charged Mrs. McCormick with shifting her stand on the issue and declared her opposition was "out of harmony" with republican administrations.

The campaign reached a high point last night when Mrs. McCormick at a rally of negro voters, declared her support of scar. Deneen, negro congressman seeking re-election.

In his Sunday meetings, Deneen charged Mrs. McCormick with "spending large sums of money in every section of the state" and said "there has not been a campaign in Illinois so expensive as the one she is making."

Straw Stacks and Cotton Seed Claimed Full of New Sugar For Svelt Figures

ATLANTA, April 7.—(P)—Strawstacks and cottonseed are full of a new sugar secret which was given to the 79th meeting of the American Chemical society here today.

TROUBLOUS MARITAL CAREER FINALLY IS CLOSED BY TRAGEDY

A. P. MINCHEW OF DALLAS KILLS YOUNG WIFE AND SU- CIDES AS BABE ROCKS DOLL

DALLAS, April 7.—(P)—Death today had closed the hectic marital career of Augustus Minchew, wealthy oil operator of Dallas and formerly of Denver, whose difficulties numerous times had been in the news.

Yesterday he shot to death Mrs. Eugenia Minchew, 33, his fourth wife, then killed himself in their fashionable home here. Their baby daughter, Nancy, 18 months, witnessed the shooting as she sat in the bedroom, a miniature rocking chair, with her doll.

One Robinson, negro maid, told officers the Minchews had been quarreling and that sensing trouble, she took Ada Jean Minchew, 11, and went downstairs. A justice returned an inquest verdict of suicide in Minchew's case and homicide, in his wife's.

Minchew was manager of the Yates pool development syndicate. According to dispatches from Denver, Minchew's second wife, now Stanley G. Smith of Denver, the former Carmen Murke, was named co-respondent by the first Mrs. Minchew after Minchew sued for divorce in 1921. Carmen Murke (Continued on Page 9).

Wild Oil Gusher Is Outsmarted by Man; Tamed Late Sunday

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., April 7.—(P)—Outsmarted by the ingenuity of man, the crafty No. 1 Mary Sudik, outlaw gusher of the South Oklahoma City oil field, today tamed and fretted against the steel barrier that held her giant energy in check.

The well was placed under control late yesterday after 11 days of liberty. During that time the gusher showered the countryside for miles around with an estimated daily average of 48,000 barrels of petroleum.

With the petroleum geyser halted, operations in the field, drew sighs of relief. Because of the danger that the spraying gas and oil would catch fire, all other activities in the district had been halted. A stray spark from two changing pieces of steel and the territory might have become a raging inferno.

If the "Wild Mary" remains under control plows tomorrow will start turning under the soil soaked terrain. Once the oil has been covered up or drained off all of the 147 active operations in the field will be resumed.

A double dam, secured above a series of fittings that included two mastergates, was the mechanism that finally halted the towering column of oil which was backed by a daily flow of some 200,000,000 cubic feet of gas. This previously the "Wild Mary" has circumvented less intricate stoppers fitted to the top of the giant's casing.

The double die was screwed into four inches of casing threads, then it self-cut two additional threads for security. A hall-shaped

DISTRICT JUDGE CHARGES GRAND JURY FOR APRIL TERM

Appealing to the April term grand jury which he formally empaneled Monday, Judge Scarbrough said some remedy could not be used whereby the large number of killings of negroes by other negroes in Navarro county could be materially reduced. He said that Judge Scarbrough, district judge of the April term of court Monday morning. The judge stated that there were about twenty-five negroes killed annually in Navarro county and little or nothing was done about it, and that it was a discredit to a county like Navarro. He declared that it was his opinion that the enforcement of laws in Navarro county was fine at the present time and stated that the liquor laws were being violated less at the present time than at any other since the national prohibition law was enacted, but that there was entirely too much liquor being sold.

"Taking everything into consideration, I believe that Navarro county is sicker than at any time since the prohibition law was enacted," Judge Scarbrough declared, "but there is a great deal of violations now."

He said the prohibition laws were being enforced in this county as well as in any other county similarly situated.

Judge Scarbrough called the attention of the investigators to the conducting of gambling and "bawdy" houses. He said that it was likely there were more "bawdy" houses outside of Corsicana than inside the city limits and directed the grand jury to inquire into these conditions, with particular attention toward determining whether the alleged "bawdy" houses were also handling liquor in large and small quantities.

He declared that the prohibition laws, violations of the "bawdy" house legislation, etc., was bad enough, but not like murder, robbery, etc. He said he was puzzled about the conditions, with particular attention toward determining whether the alleged "bawdy" houses were also handling liquor in large and small quantities.

Persons returning from the scene of the wreck said only a few passengers received minor bruises. The accident occurred about 1:30 a. m. A rail gave way after the locomotive and two cars had passed. Three extra pullmans were brought up from Lafayette, La., and the passengers on the wrecked train were taken to Houston, Tex., where they will be given accommodations to their destinations. One of the derailed sleepers was bound for Los Angeles, one for Houston, one for San Diego and one for Lake Charles.

Edward Mouton was engineer of the train, which was in charge of Conductor John W. Price.

An assault with intent to murder cases. "In four-fifths of the time measured by the standards of white men, there is no case in the negro killings," the court continued.

The grand jury is composed of L. I. Griffin, Blooming Grove; J. K. Hawthorn, Streetman; Tom Slay; Hitt, Rice; Byron Cheney, Corsicana; J. M. Dyer, Sr., Corsicana; E. Y. Cunningham, Corsicana; H. C. Russell, Purdon; M. L. Levine, Corsicana; L. W. Armstrong, Corsicana; and H. M. Pritchard, Corsicana.

KANSAS CITY MAN SOUGHT ON MURDER CHARGE IN PLOT

BELIEVED ACTUAL SLAYING MAN IN ARKANSAS DONE BY CHICAGO GUNMAN

BENTONVILLE, Ark., April 7.—(P)—A fugitive warrant was issued and forwarded to Kansas City today for the arrest of S. K. Johnson, Kansas City real estate operator on a charge of murder in connection with the death of William Robert Pearson of Columbia, Mo., whose slaying allegedly grew out of an insurance conspiracy. The murder charge was contained in an indictment returned by the grand jury here last week, which was not made public until today.

BENTONVILLE, Ark., April 7.— A man who spent the last three weeks of his life in Colum- bia, Mo., and was seen there in an au- tomobile which had what appeared to be a bullet hole in the wind- shield the day after the slaying of William Robert Pearson of Colum- bia, Mo., believed to have occurred near here, was sought for ques- tioning today.

Other information which investigators have learned about this man, according to county officials, is being investigated in the hope that it may throw some light on the alleged Pearson insurance plot murder in connection with which
Dr. A. J. Bues, 55, retired dentist of Columbia, is held here on a murder charge.

This man whose description has been obtained, according to officers, stopped at a hotel in Columbia from March 6 to April 1. He said he was a bond salesman, hotel employee said, but they did not believe he received any mail while there.

On March 30, the day after the slaying of Pearson is believed to have occurred on a highway near here, the man took a large motor-car, loaded with a machine gun, and was working on the car, a machine saw a Chicago driver's license under the front seat, and the car here an Illinois license plate.
Officers also announced that Walter Ford Burton, whose arrest in Columbia was ordered Saturday, had been released after he had satisfied questioners he knew no details of the $200,000 insurance conspiracy and assigned to Dr.

Barton was quoted as saying,
however, that after a conversation

WORKING ORDERS FOR HIGHWAYS IN NAVARRO COUNTY

ORDER FOR WORK START ON TRINITY RIVER BRIDGE ALSO ISSUED PAST WEEK

The working order for the beginning of the grading and drainage structures on State Highway 14 between Richland and the Navarro-Freestone county line near Wortham, was issued Monday, according to J. W. Alger, resident state highway engineer. This is a distance of 8.07 miles. The working order for the beginning of the construction of the concrete bridge spanning Trinity river between Navarro and Henderson counties on State Highway 31 was issued last week, but the local engineers' office has not been advised whether the work has actually started. This bridge is being constructed by the state highway commission and by Navarro and Henderson counties, and will cost approximately $250,000. The two counties are putting up 25,000 each and the highway commission is defraying the remainder of the cost. The work on Highway 139, the Corsicana-Palestine highway, is under way.

On the grading and drainage structures on Highway 14 from Richland toward Wortham, the grading and smaller drainage structures are being done by Schelling & Hall, Inc., Texas, while the P. P. McElwraith Construction Company of Corsicana has the larger structures. The Schelling & Hall contract is for $48,662.46. The McElwraith Company has bridges spanning Cedar and Pine Oak creeks and four others on branches, etc., near the creeks, and is for $29,033.21.

No contract has been let by the highway department on the 3.9 miles in Freestone county in the vicinity of Wortham, connecting Navarro county with the concrete highway in Limestone county toward Mexia.

Right of Way Being Secured. Mr. Alger stated that considerable right of way had been reported secured on State Highway 31 in the vicinity of Mexia. It was stated Monday morning that the awarding of the contract for the concrete pavement on National Highway 75 from a point about two miles south of Corsicana to the Freestone county line via Richland and Streetman, which was scheduled to be made at the April session of the highway commission would not be let, but that it was expected the contract would be let at the May session of the commission.

Timber strip piles have been driven at the bridge site on Highway 139 at Lake Halbert where the present bridge crosses the western end of the lake and the dirt work and small drainage structures are being made. The piles are being driven at Lake Halbert will be concrete, but the test is being made with wooden piles. The bridge has been opened for traffic after being closed for several days. While the bridge is closed, traffic from the south is detoured by Angus via the Humble tank farm, A. B. Purnell, county engineer, stated Monday.

The surveys on Highway 139 have been staked to Eureka and the plans and specifications are being prepared by the engineers. The preliminary surveys are being made from Eureka to the Consolidated Road District No. 1 boundary line in the vicinity of Chambers Creek. The present grading work on 139 is being done between the city limits of Corsicana and the Three Way Filling Station.

The McElwraith company is pouring concrete on the Corsicana-Eureka lateral road in the vicinity of the Country Club and Lakeview Club.

TWELVE PRISONERS ESCAPE FROM SEVENTH FLOOR HARRIS COUNTY JAIL EARLY MONDAY

HOUSTON, April 7.—(AP)—From the seventh floor of the county jail, 12 prisoners, a number of them under penitentiary sentences, escaped today by climbing down an improvised rope of fire hose. They had attacked and tied up Night-watchman W. A. McClinton after sawing a hole one-foot square in the bars of their cell block.

The other 14 men in the same tier refused to leave and untied McClinton after their mates had fled.

Sheriff T. A. Binford, who said he could not understand how such a "modern jail" was broken, organized a posse, which set out on a search in and about Houston.

An examination of the cell block showed that the sawing probably had been going on for a day or two, perhaps longer. Two hacks saws were found. They presumably were smuggled in on visitors' day.

The night watchman said he remained trussed up for nearly two hours. A Mexican was left to guard him while the other 13 went down the fire hose. Then the Mexican followed.

J. R. Cavness, under a four year sentence for burglary, and J. E. Nelson, sentenced to eight years for robbery by assault, untied McClinton and helped him spread the alarm.

Early this morning a man called out from his darkened cell, "Come on back, I'm in." It was the signal for the outbreak.

McClinton said he looked through a "peep hole" and saw four men crouched and ready to spring. He switched on the light, and they pounced upon him.

Those missing, none of whom officers said could be called desperate, were: Murray Holloway, Edward Seymour, Elmo Wright, Joe Janke, W. C. Johnson, C. J. Lewis, John Garcia, Bryan O'Neil, J. M. Salmon, Jim Carson, Frank Barnes and William Penny.

CHINESE BANDITS THREATEN REFUGEE FOR MISSIONARIES

SHANGHAI, April 7.—(AP)—Chinese press dispatches today reported that bandits were threatening Kiukiang, Kiangsi province, where foreign missionaries have been concentrating for safety.

An American gunboat on the Yangtze river has been ordered to proceed from Hankow to Kiukiang to protect missionaries and observe conditions.

Meanwhile, reports of brigandage continued to come in from various points of Central China, particularly from Kiangsi and Kiangsu provinces.

Numerous villages near Sunkiang, Kiangsu, were reported to have been looted and burned by 500 bandits, who kidnapped 50 school children and held them for ransom.

Three constables and a magistrate were said to have been killed by the outlaws.

One dispatch said pirates had raided ten cargo junks at the mouth of the Yangtze, escaping northward with their loot. A letter dated March 21, from a missionary at Kachchow, Kiangsi, said the city was surrounded by communists, but that they had been unable to force entrance to the town because of the strong gates and walls surrounding it. Sixteen American Catholic missionaries have been unable to leave Kachchow for several weeks because of the communist siege.

The letter said soldiers defending the city had been able to inflict heavy damage on the bandits by using machine guns mounted on the walls of the city. Although repulsed at the gates of the city, the bandits were said to be looting and burning nearby villages. Communists within the walls also were said to be causing anxiety by attempting to create disorders.

EARLY ACTION ON PRO ENFORCEMENT AND PRISON RELIEF

WASHINGTON, April 7.—(AP)—Early action on the prohibition enforcement transfer bill and on prison relief measures was advocated before the senate judiciary committee today by Attorney Mitchell to help administration of the dry law.

The bill for the transfer of the prohibition enforcement unit from the treasury department to the department of justice has been passed by the house.

The attorney general regarded unfavorably the resolution of Chairman Norris, proposing a senate investigation of prohibition enforcement, and the author conceded after the meeting he had little hope for the inquiry.

Asked about the charges of politics mixing in enforcement, made by Mrs. Mabel Walker Willebrandt, former assistant attorney general in charge of prohibition prosecutions, Mr. Mitchell said he had declined to comment on this before the senate committee.

Reporting that federal prisons were greatly overcrowded, Mr. Mitchell attributed this principally to increased prosecutions under the dry law. However, he said the Dwyer automobile theft law, the Mann act and the narcotic act also had contributed to the increase in number of prisoners.

After again deferring action on the Norris resolution, the committee held itself ready to hear Senators Borah, Republican, Idaho, who has charged laxity in enforcement, and Senator Wheeler, Democrat, Montana, who also has asked a senate inquiry, before taking a final vote.

THREE KILLED IN KANSAS AND THREE IN NEBRASKA AS PLANES CRASHED

HAYS, Kas., April 7.—(AP)—A parent failure of a biplane to straighten out of a "wing-over" has brought death to Leslie Marshall, 34, the pilot, and Orville Herbert and Melvin Ridgeway, both passengers and both 19 years old.

The men were killed here yesterday at the Hays flying field. Falling from an altitude of about 500 feet, the airplane burst into flames when it struck the ground. Bodies of the occupants of the ship were burned badly.

Marshall was an experienced pilot, and had been employed by the Hays Flying school and Harry Turk, official of the Phillips Petroleum company and owner of the wrecked plane. The pilot is survived by a widow and six children at Anderson, Mo.

Herbert and Ridgeway lived in Ellis, Kansas. They were unmarried.

Three Killed in Nebraska.
TILDEN, Neb., April 7.—(AP)—A tree-planting ceremony attended by Gov. Weaver and 5,000 residents of Northeastern Nebraska came to a tragic ending yesterday with the death of three aviators, trapped in a new biplane as it fell from a height of 500 feet.

The ceremony had just ended and the crowd was disappearing when the plane crashed to earth and burst into flames.

Two of the occupants were killed instantly. The pilot died last night.

The dead, all residents of Plainville, Neb., were: Kenneth Kirk, 26, pilot and co-owner of the plane, Leonard Alexander, 22, part owner of the ship, and Leon Baldwin, 24.

The large crowd had spent a major portion of the day in planting trees and shrubbery and Gov. Weaver had just concluded an address when the plane fell 300 feet from the speaker's platform. Kirk's mother was among those who saw the tragedy.

Two Killed in England.
LONDON, April 7.—(AP)—A German plane carrying mail from Croydon to Berlin, crashed at Liphfield today at 4:15 a. m. The pilot and mechanic, its only occupants, both were killed. This night mail service had been in operation only two nights.

DISTRICT ATTORNEY ADVISES DROPPING CHARGES AGAINST FEMININE PROHIBITION FAN

PAMPA, April 7.—(AP)—Miss Beulah Allred, arrested March 26 and charged with possession and transporting intoxicating liquor she claimed was purchased as evidence for a grand jury, obtained her liberty today after Clifford Braly, district attorney, asked that charges against her be dismissed when her case was called for trial.

The district attorney said he was not with the grand jury when the indictment against Miss Allred was returned. He said he investigated the charges and while finding the woman technically guilty "still there is wholly a lack of actual criminal intent upon the part of the defendant to violate the liquor laws, but rather a misguided impractical idea upon her part that such a course would be a means toward aiding in law enforcement."

Miss Allred was arrested as she was displaying liquor she claimed she bought to bear out her conviction that no effort on the part of officers was being made to stop bootlegging in Pampa.

BAND CONCERT AT CITY PARK SUNDAY DREW GREAT CROWD

First open air concert of the current season was presented in the City Park Sunday afternoon by the combined musical forces of the Corsicana high school, State Home bands, augmented by members of the Old Fellows Band, local musicians, and two members of the University of Texas Longhorn Band, under the direction of Joel C. Timble.

More than a thousand people visited the park during the hours of the concert, and several hundred of them were massed in and around the old band stand, applauding the band of more than 100 pieces after each selection.

The first number on the program was a march, "Zelo," written by the conductor, and met with popular favor. A sacred number "Angelus," arranged by Lake, was dedicated to the late Fred Berry, a member of the State Home Band.

Other numbers on the hour's program included "Gypsy Festival," an overture by Hayes; march, "Bon-bon-bon," by Lake; "Moonlight on the Nile," a concert waltz by King; "Dull Razor Blues" by Huffine; "Mississippi" by Lake; "Tesorito Mio" by Lake; concluding with the "Star Spangled Banner."

Printed programs were distributed for the afternoon through the courtesy of the Old Mill Confectionery and Ransom Tailor Shop, chairs for the band were supplied through the courtesy of Sutherland Furniture Company and Miles C. Timble.

NEW ORLEANS MAN HELD IN HOUSTON ON MURDER CHARGE

ALLEGED TO HAVE KILLED MAN WALKING ON STREET WITH HIS FORMER WIFE

HOUSTON, April 7.—(AP)—J. G. Vaughn, New Orleans mechanic, was held in jail here today without bond, awaiting examining trial Wednesday on charges of murder in the fatal shooting of H. H. Comley, merchant of Damon, Texas.

Comley was shot and killed Saturday night as he walked along a street in the residential section with Mrs. Vaughn, former wife of the man charged in the shooting.

According to Mrs. Vaughn, they were walking to a grocery store near her home when a man stepped suddenly from behind them, pressed a pistol close to Comley's head and fired once. As his victim slumped to the ground, the man darted to a car parked nearby and drove away. She told police her identification of her former husband was positive. Mrs. Vaughn is the mother of four children and is house detective in a department store.

Vaughn surrendered at the Sheriff's office yesterday, saying he saw in the newspapers he was wanted, but he denied that he knew anything of the shooting and declared he had spent the night at the home of a brother in South Houston.

Comley is survived by his widow and three children in San Antonio; his mother, Mrs. Emma

GOOD NEWS

At the beginning of the New Year, this institution announced that it would make a determined effort to make 1930 the biggest year in the history of its three wholesale houses at Corsicana, Mexia and Athens.

We now have the good news to announce that our business for the first quarter of the new year surpasses the same period of last year by a substantial margin which is very gratifying.

Such an increase in the business of our three houses encourages us to push forward for a still larger increase for the coming quarter.

Our plans for expansion for 1930 are working out so nicely that we want the public and our many patrons to know how happy we are, and to take this opportunity of extending our great appreciation and gratitude for the liberal patronage given our three houses.

We are proud of the good records we have made during the many years in the wholesale grocery business, and with honest business policies backed by the highest class merchandise at the right prices, together with courteous and friendly treatment by our entire organization, we are all working to make this year the biggest in our history.

To do this we realize that we are dependent upon the liberal patronage of our many customers who we will exert every effort to please and give the fullest of satisfaction.

This is a home enterprise and we have been and are always interested in the development of our local communities, and gladly contribute to the development and upbuilding of all worthy enterprises.

You can get right here at home from your wholesale grocer just as high class fresh merchandise as can be had from any outside source, and at the same time save the freight and get immediate delivery.

With appreciation to all for the success of our three houses, we are,

Sincerely yours,
CENTRAL TEXAS GROCERY CO.

ATHLETES FROM THREE COUNTIES IN CURRIE MEET STATE HOME CARRIED OFF GREATEST NUMBER POINTS ON TWO DIVISIONS

BY DELMORE OLSEN
(Daily Sun Staff Writer.)
CURRIE, April 5.—(Spl.)—While hundreds of interested spectators looked on, athletes representing schools in Navarro, Limestone and Freestone counties competed here Friday for honors in the Currie Invitation Track meet. A compilation of points shows that the State Home of Corsicana, entering junior and senior boys track and field, amassed a total of 77 points in the two divisions.

Providence, represented in all departments of the meet, came in for second place in compilation of points with 44, while Wortham won third place with 30 points.

One of the features of the meet, however, failed to materialize when Bourland of Barry did not appear for the meet. The chief center of interest for a large number of track fans was the meeting of these two runners, Davenport of State Home, Class A winner of 100, 220 and 440 yard dashes, and Bourland, winner of the 100 yard event in Class B at the annual county meet. These two runners have not been pitted against each other and considerable speculation is rife over the results of such races.

In senior boys track and field, the State Home team had everything its way, winning first place in practically every event and in several placed one, two, three, in two events, high jump and shotput, the State Home entries failed to win first place, those going to Wortham and Providence, respectively.

Turpin is Sensation.

Turpin, sensational young sprint star, representing State Home, won a sufficient number of places to assure victory in that department. In the 50 and 100 yard dashes, however, he was forced to "step out" to win over McNell, of Providence, who finished second in these events, a step or two behind Turpin.

Currie won the girls' junior and senior track events with a total of 17 points. Providence captured second place with 15 points.

In playground ball, Bryan won the junior girls' by defeating Providence in the finals. The Providence boys captured the junior boys division while the Currie girls won the senior department with a 10-5 win over Providence in the finals.

Results of the track, field, playground ball and tennis events follow:

Girl Tennis Champ
Plays Great Games

TEAGUE, April 5.—(SP)—Clara Lane, Dew tennis champion, county and district winner of last year, played the best game Thursday afternoon that she has ever exhibited. In a match with Doyle McSpadden, county winner in doubles last year and county winner in singles this year, of Teague, she defeated him 6-2, 5-7, 6-3. Lane stacked up a little in the second set, but she came back strong in the third set.

Lane then played a second match this against Grays, another Teague boy, member of the doubles team for this year. She defeated him 6-2, 5-7, 6-1. Lane's style in this match was not up to her standard in the first match because of being fatigued.

Lane took the county meet this year in single losing but two games in all. It is predicted that she will play for a second time in the district meet, and she will probably offer some tough competition in the state meet.

HILLSBORO HURLER HAMMERED HEAVILY IN INITIAL GAME A. RUTH HELD VISITORS HELPLESS IN SECOND AB- BREVIAED CONTEST

Gathering twenty-three solid base blows off the delivery of Mayfield, including two home runs, one triple and seven doubles, the Magnolia Oilers drubbed the Hillsboro Cotton Millers 25-6 in the opening game of a double header played Sunday afternoon at the Municipal Park. In the five inning aftermath, the Oilers blanked the visiting aggregation 9-0 by timely hitting supporting the great work of A. Ruth on the slab who held the Millers to one hit in the five innings.

Harper, slugging third baseman of the Oilers, led the hitting attack in the first game with two home runs, one double and two singles in six official trips to the plate. James Strum, diminutive right fielder for the Magnolia aggregation, enjoyed a perfect day at bat with four singles in as many official trips to the plate. He was passed to first base on three other appearances.

Mayfield was as wild as the proverbial "March hare," giving up nine free trips to first base, these coupled with ten errors by his teammates kept him in the hole during the entire game.

Skipper Joyner trotted out his prize rookie in the first game and this youngster, Mims by name, turned in a great pitching exhibition, striking out fifteen would-be hitters allowing five hits and walking four in as many official trips to the mound. The young tosser worked behind a large lead throughout the contest but in two innings only did he experiment, which cost him a shut out victory.

The five hits garnered by the visitors were well scattered, except in the third inning when successive doubles by Webb and Hamilton chased four runs across the plate.

In the second contest, the Oilers started where they left off in the initial game, and hopped on the offerings of "Speedy" Reagan for eight runs in the first inning. A double by Wiggins in the third sent his team from being hitless. Incidentally, Wiggins was the only Hillsboro player to reach second base during the day.

By their showing in the double header Sunday afternoon, the Magnolia Oilers stamped themselves as contenders for the title of the Navarro County Baseball League which opens Sunday, April 20th.

Roaming the Realm of County Sports By DELMORE OLSEN.

The Magnolia Oilers hit the offerings of two Hillsboro Cotton Mill pitchers to all corners of the lot Sunday afternoon in the Municipal park to win a double header 25-6 and 9-0.

In the initial game the Oilers garnered twenty-three hits, got nine bases on balls and ten players received life on miscues to roll up the twenty-five runs. The pitching exhibition turned in by Mayfield, Hillsboro tosser, was miserable and after the fifth inning he did not seem to care about tossing "em over, and incidentally served up two fat ones to Harper, slugging third baseman, who very promptly got the pitcher out of the hole by blasting them over the fence.

In direct contrast to the work of Mayfield, was the great tossing of Mims, new addition to the Magnolia team, who struck out fifteen men, allowing five hits and walked four men. The youngster who came here some time ago from California in search of baseball employment, seems to have found a happy home with the Oilers. The pitcher seems to have practically everything in the way of curves and deceptive balls, and bids fair to be a star hurler in the Navarro County Baseball league.

Five teams were ready Saturday night to pay the $25.00 entrance fee into the Navarro county Baseball league, and the time for entries was extended until Saturday, April 12th, in the hope that one or more teams might enter to make it a six team loop. Considerable interest is being shown in the league and it looks like it will go over with a bang.

In the aftermath, Adolph Ruth, former Texas league pitcher, turned the Hillsboro team back with one double in the abbreviated five-inning contest. The Oilers gave the veteran a great lead in the first inning by scoring eight runs in the initial inning.

HUMBLE DEFEATED RINKY DINKS AFTER ONE EXTRA INNING

Scoring a run in the eighth inning to break a tie which existed at the end of the agreed seven innings, the Humble Oil and Refining company nine defeated the Rinky Dink club of Corsicana 9 to 8 Sunday afternoon on the Humble diamond at Mildred.

The Humble nine hopped on the offerings of Finch in the fourth inning to score five runs after being held scoreless during the first part of the fray, from that point until the end of the contest the Humble nine were hard to handle, scoring three runs in the seventh to tie the score and pushed over the winning run in the eighth.

The Rinky Dink club held a six run lead at the beginning of the fourth inning and added two more in the sixth before being stopped by the twirling of Beauford Barnes.

Score by innings:
Rinky-Dinks . . .012 302 00—8 11 4
Humble 000 500 31—9 12 5
Batteries: Finch, V. P. Ruth and Benbow; Lehu, Barnes and Day.

PURDON PEWEES ARE WEIGHED SATURDAY; OTHERS COME LATER

Twelve members of the Purdon Pewee baseball team gathered at the Y. M. C. A. Saturday afternoon to be weighed and certified, in accordance with the rules and regulations set forth by the Purdon American Legion Post, which is sponsoring a Navarro County Pee-wee baseball league.

Other teams are expected to have certified and weighed before the date for entrance expires on May 15. It was stated by officials of the league Saturday afternoon.

Considerable interest is being shown throughout the county on the formation of the Sub-Junior baseball league, and it is expected that at least eight teams will be entered.

Pewee teams were organized in the Purdon, Richland, Barry, Blooming Grove, Pinkston and Dawson communities last year.

TRIAL OF CHRIST AND CRUCIFIXION OF CHRIST RELATED

DISCUSSION FROM LEGAL STANDPOINT GIVEN BY EVANGELIST HAM

Discussing the trial and crucifixion of Christ from a legal viewpoint, and pointing out the difference between the trial and crucifixion, Dr. Ham, evangelist, gave a presentation in the big cotton warehouse in the eastern section of the city today night.

A vocal solo by Dr. Ham featured the musical service which was led by Earl S. Rodgers, with Raleigh Treadway as accompanist. After the opening prayer by Rev. David Shepperson, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, a free will offering was taken, and a large number of out of town visitors were welcomed.

It was announced that a special section will be reserved for all members of men's Bible classes of the city Monday night, and a special message will be delivered. Sunday school and church officers will have a special section Tuesday night; women's auxiliary members will be the guests Wednesday night, and Thursday night will be family night, it was announced. The young people will be guests Friday night, and Dr. Ham will preach a special sermon.

Important Cases Reviewed. Prefacing his sermon, Dr. Ham cited several strange legal cases in world history, and said that the strangest was the trial and crucifixion of Christ. He explained its strangeness by saying that people seized and killed the very God who brought them into existence, and upon whose generosity blessings are given people. In this connection the evangelist declared that the present day world is responsible for the rejection of Jesus, and will have to answer for it.

Dr. Ham explained that to justify a case it is necessary to know its history, and the make-up and function of the courts before it is tried, and continued to explain the history of the case of Christ, as recorded in the Gospels. The further gave a detailed description of the courts wherein Christ was tried. The evangelist declared that the people who tried Jesus were modernists, who did not believe in the supernatural, and who rejected the Bible's teachings.

Dr. Ham said that Christ was not popular with the leaders of the time because he was popular with the masses, and because his popularity was endangering the leaders' prestige. "Christ exposed the religious element and his executioners resorted to secret council, and hired people to follow Christ and get legal evidence against him," the evangelist explained. "The religious times Christ humiliated the lawyers, which further cemented his popularity with the masses."

No Legal Charge. "After discovering they could find no legal evidence with which to put him to death," Dr. Ham went on: "They falsely charged him with blasphemy and sedition." At this point the speaker pointed out the many irregularities connected with Christ's trial and execution, and showed where the courts would be disqualified today. He declared that Christ was condemned to death several months before his arrest and trial. "Pilate had the opportunity to release Christ," Dr. Ham declared, "but feared for his connection with Caesar, and gave the people their choice between Christ and Barabbas." He further asserted that Pilate will be held accountable for the death of Christ, as will the people on earth today who reject Him daily.

"Present day Christendom is a social oligarchy that refuses to help missionaries, and turns its back on God, and will never win a battle against the organized effort of the anti-Christ movement," the speaker declared. He continued: "Christ is being attacked now by the press, schools, and organized international efforts." The evangelist declared that persons of the world today who say "amen" to verdicts for Christ's conviction, and who fail to accept His salvation, exposed to destruction. Concluding, Dr. Ham said: "We be unto you if you stand before the God on judgment day, who created you and the world you live in, and reject the teachings of his son."

The benediction was pronounced by Rev. J. Howard Williams, pastor of the First Baptist church.

Alleged Boycott Of State Land By Oil Men Be Probed

AUSTIN, April 7.—(AP)—Claims of Ed Cranin, Dallas member of the University of Texas land leasing board, that oil companies have combined to boycott sale of oil and gas leases in West Texas state land, will be investigated by the attorney general's department. Governor Moody said he had referred to Attorney General R. L. Bobbitt the letter of Cranin complaining that the companies had agreed not to bid so long as the state insisted on reserving more than one-eighth royalty. The board had fixed a minimum of one-sixth of the production on lands regarded as proven territory.

W. P. G. HARDING, HEAD FEDERAL BANK OF BOSTON, IS DEAD

he became the youngest full graduate in the history of the university. After working for a time in a private bank in Tuscaloosa he went to Birmingham, where he worked his way up from bookkeeper to cashier of the Berney National Bank. He was president of the First National Bank of Birmingham when in 1914 he was appointed a member of the newly organized federal reserve board. Two years later President Wilson named him as governor of the board and this position he continued to hold until 1922. In January, 1923, he became governor of the Federal Reserve Bank of Boston.

Is Given Degree
During the war Mr. Harding was managing director of the war finance corporation. He was awarded the degree of doctor of laws by the University of Alabama in 1916 and by Harvard university in 1922.

Mr. Harding considered one of his greatest achievements in the fact that he succeeded in keeping the federal reserve board out of politics. In January, 1920, he delivered a notable address in which he warned of the approaching business depression, saying that it might be found that America had been "living in a fool's paradise since the close of the war" and that more work, economy and liberal investment in foreign securities were necessary "if we wish to make the present apparent prosperity real and permanent."

CHICAGO FINANCIER PROVES BE MODERN COUNT MONTE CRISTO

CHICAGO, April 7.—(AP)—Like another Count of Monte Cristo, Arthur W. Cutten, the financier, is running to earth his enemies, one by one.

If the man arrested in Cleveland, O., yesterday is really Simon Rosenberg, another of the bandit band that robbed the Cutten household March 17, 1922, has been found. He has been called the leader of the robbers, though the man held at Cleveland denies he is Rosenberg at all. He gave his name to arresting officers as Charles Davis.

"When a man comes into my house and robs me and my family, and then looks me in a vault where I might have suffocated—well, I'll get him," said Mr. Cutten last night at his Downers Grove, Ill., estate. And he has gotten the robbers, one by one; has pushed the prosecution, has sent them to prison. If the man in Cleveland is Rosenberg—and Cutten feels certain he is—only one member of the robber gang remains at large. He is Kasper Rosenberg, brother of Simon. "Simon Rosenberg is No. 5," Cutten said. "When I get his brother, the job's done."

The Cutten robbery was at the Downers Grove estate. Jewelry valued at 20,000, and a small amount of cash and 25 cases of whiskey were taken. Mr. Cutten and other members of the household were bound and gagged, and the financier was locked in a vault. Two servants freed themselves and released Cutten.

OPEN HOSTILITIES NARROWLY AVERTED SCHOOL ELECTION

M'ALLEN, April 7.—(AP)—Embers under the political cauldron smoldered here today after armed members of two factions narrowly averted a clash over the school trustee election at the little Mexican settlement of Penitas, 30 miles west of here.

While the election was being held Saturday, armed members of the Good Government league and of the administration lined up opposite each other and stood around each the polls all day. The league candidates were defeated. Hardly more than 25 anglo-Americans voters reside in the district, the others being Mexicans.

And Some People Believe They Are Trouble Laden

CHICAGO, April 7.—(AP)—May-be it was a big laugh to someone, but Fireman John Connick is dying.

Someone thought it would be lots of fun to see the fire engines yesterday and turned in a false alarm. There are folks like that. The great fire trucks shrieked through the streets. At an intersection the fire truck which Connick was riding sideswiped the automobile in which the person who had turned in the alarm was driving away.

Connick's skull was fractured and he was injured internally. Doctors said he hadn't a chance to live.

Out at Mount Olivet cemetery lies the baby son born to the Connicks Friday. The little customer was taken there Saturday by the father. At St. Anne's hospital, critically ill, lies Mrs. Connick. She doesn't know her husband's dying.

TEXAS TO RECEIVE THREE MILLION FOR ROAD CONSTRUCTION

WASHINGTON, April 7.—(AP)—Secretary Hyde today apportioned among the 48 states and Hawaii $48,750,000 of the additional $50,000,000 authorized by congress as federal aid for highway construction in the fiscal year beginning on July 1.

This supplementary appropriation was authorized by a bill signed by President Hoover on April 4 which also provided for the appropriation of $125,000,000 for each of the fiscal years, 1931, 1932 and 1933, an additional of $50,000,000 yearly over the president's appropriation.

Congress provided $75,000,000 by a previous act and Secretary Hyde apportioned this among the states and Hawaii on December 2, 1929. Apportionment to the states of the additional $50,000,000 for the fiscal year of 1931 included:

Louisiana, $893,463; New Mexico, $793,531; Oklahoma, $1,167,343; Texas, $3,030,554.

Kidnapper Bandits Hike Bristow Ransom

MEXICO CITY, April 7.—(AP)—Dispatches from Tepic today said that the bandits holding J. E. Bristow, American oil operator, had raised their demands of ransom to 40,000 pesos ($20,000). Federal troops reported the bandits had reached mountain country so inaccessible that the troops were no longer able to use horses in their search.

Threaten to Kill Bristow.

OKLAHOMA CITY, April 7.—(AP)—A special dispatch today to the Oklahoma City Times from Mazatlan, Mexico, says that military pursuit of the bandit captors of J. E. Bristow, former Oklahoma oil man, has been suspended because of a threat from the brigands' stronghold that Bristow's life would be taken if the chase continued.

Meanwhile, it was believed that one of the messengers of Gordon Obie Bristow, the captive's son, and a former University of Oklahoma football star, would establish contact with Cruz Delgado, the bandit chieftain, within the next few days.

ALL WOULD PROFIT.

An adequate system of farm-to-market roads in every state would not only be of inestimable value to agriculture but to town and city merchants as well.

Ease of transportation causes more people to travel. Better roads, stretching into rural areas and making them readily accessible all year round, would attract tourists. They would bring visitors to the smaller towns and cities.

Furthermore, if farmers had constant, all year contact with surrounding communities through the medium of improved roads, they would bring greater patronage to local merchants. Accessibility to markets would increase farm profits, thus giving the farmer more money to spend for the necessities and luxuries of life.

Farm-to-market roads would be as valuable to the town and city dweller as to the farmer. They are a necessary agency in furthering American progress and prosperity.

HEROES.

The name of Brown appears large in the headlines. Brown, we are led to believe, won the game. A five-column photograph shows us Brown in the act of carrying the ball over.

But who is the unidentified youngster with the long legs who is one step ahead of Brown in the photograph? His name is Smith, and he isn't a hero. He doesn't count.

Brown carried the ball over the goal line five times, and all this fellow Smith had to do was to lope at his side and block tacklers who had designs on Brown. He merely cleared the way and reduced Brown's duties to the simple business of trotting behind and clinging to the ball.

Insignificant Smith! Glorious Brown!

Dispatches from 'the front' inform us that the gallant Four Hundred and Twenty-first stormed the ridge and cleared out a nest that had threatened the line for weeks. Actually stormed the position, right up that steep hill!

Glorious achievement!

Of course there were many batteries in the rear that bombarded the ridge for an hour before the advance and laid down a creeping barrage that destroyed every living thing on the ridge and before it, but these batteries merely killed off the enemy and made the advance possible. That was all.

Two brothers get jobs and feed the family in order that a third may be relieved of obligation and may get an education. The public prints praise him. The third, thus favored, makes the most of his opportunity and achieves distinction. He is the family hero—the neighborhood hero. Nobody mentions the two who had made him what he is—who sacrificed themselves to confer greatness upon him. They were mere interference.

The spotlight covers little territory. It reveals the man who stands high. It seldom reveals those who hold him up. The history of war is a biography of generals. They carry the ball. The lesser patriots who furnished the interference figure in history only as statistics.

A local victim of the autumn market crash says if the promoters of memory courses will get up another in forgetting he might be a prospect.

Often men who practice a profession also have to practice economy.

JUST FOLKS

WILLIAM HOWARD TAFT
I shall come some day to your grave
In Arlington, and at my side,
Shall be the boy I hope to save
From all the shams of foolish pride.

And standing there, to him I'll say:
"This great, courageous soul remained
Against the perils of the day
Gentle, and kindly and unstained."

"Power from his charm could not detract,
With sympathy his life was sweet
He never did one scornful act
To snatch a triumph from defeat."

"Men loved him best who knew him best,
In him the poorest found a friend;
By every spiritual test
His life was the noble to the end."

"Here sleeps a strong man who was kind,
A great soul who had time for mirth,
Who rose, but would not leave behind,
The simple beauties of the earth."

MR. GRUNDY'S "GOOD TIMES"

Senator Grundy, archangel of the high protective tariff interests of the country, declared in a St. Patrick's day speech at Philadelphia that if congress would only boost the tariff rates, there would be jobs for 500,000 persons. All the business and industrial prostration of the country, the inference is, can be traceable to the lack of high tariff rates.

But how about this? Wasn't Mr. Grundy extremely active in passing the tariff bill under which the nation now is operating? Did not he and his colleagues in the special privilege crowd assure the people back in 1922 that if only congress would pass a high tariff law, there would be no danger of industrial depression, that the workingman would have an abundance of work and a full dinner pail, that the sun would shine constantly and charity have to go out of business?

What has happened? The nation today has the highest tariff since 1913. All the tariff barons wanted they got from congress. Advocates of a reasonable tariff framed to recognize the welfare of the consumer as well as of the manufacturer were swept aside by those who subordinated the pocketbook of the consumer to the profits of the protected manufacturer. If the country was to prosper, the tariff robbers said, there must be a high tariff and they got it.

And what is the result today? Business is not only depressed but hundreds of thousands of men eager for work cannot get it. Not only that but individuals and families are in distress. Scarcely a day passes that one is not met with the pathetic plight of men as hungry for honest toil as for wholesome food.

The Grundy tariffs were guaranteed to avert such suffering and discomfort. Protection was designed to safeguard American business and the American workingman and now that it has done no such thing the audacious suggestion is made that higher and still higher tariff duties must be imposed if things are to get better.

Democratic partisans have shown amazing restraint in not emphasizing the republican label on the present "good times." Had the partisan situation been reversed, even the morning cocks would have been trained by republican politicians to crow about "bad times" and democratic responsibility. "Soup houses" and "bread lines" would have been chorused and parroted about to satisfy partisan bigotry.

But the shoe is on the other foot. The high tariff pledges of prosperity are not redeemed now. The American workingman and the American consumer are bound to doubt the special privilege tariff and prosperity mean the same thing and their lot is not made any more comfortable by the Grundies offering as their only remedy for the depression tariff, more tariff and still more tariff.

Co-operate with the census enumerators in every way possible. Remember these figures will stand for ten years and it is very important that every resident of Corsicana be counted.

ONE TROUBLE WITH NEW BABIES

FATIGUE.

Industrial research has shown that the fatigued worker's output falls off, quality suffers and carelessness develops. Accidents are most numerous shortly before quitting time.

Fatigue is a normal protective mechanism preventing overloading of the human organisms, just as a fuse prevents overloading an electrical circuit. The utterly fatigued person cannot continue and must, therefore stop, in spite of himself. The point of complete exhaustion is seldom reached. At a certain stage the "second wind" develops, and our minds, shutting out disturbing impressions, continue to function at a high level of efficiency and very economically, so that we can go along more or less automatically, depleting our energy slowly.

When the energy output persistently exceeds recuperative powers a condition of chronic fatigue develops. In this state people are irritable, resentful, melancholy, dissatisfied, discouraged and may rage or weep over trifles. This again is the normal protective mechanism against exhaustion. The chronically tired person is absolutely compelled to rest. If he is wise, he will do so before his efficiency drops and his recuperative powers are lowered.

The way to get the most out of an employee is not by overworking him. The output of an eight-hour working day may be larger and better than that of a twelve-hour day.

LAMBS ALWAYS.

Over two hundred years ago animals were first used to describe fluctuations in the stock market. Prices were extremely erratic, and to these early observers "bullish" and "bearish" most adequately characterized fluctuations of stocks. To them it seemed like a fierce battle between two bestial forces; the bull working for higher stock prices tossed things upward with his horns; the bear working for lower prices dragged them down with his claws.

Then about the time of the South Sea bubble in 1720, another animal was introduced into the drama. By this time small investors and speculators were greatly confused by the wild gyrations of securities. Bulls and bears were constantly fighting, now swinging prices upward, now downward. The small traders and investors on the side lines were mild, gentle, humble and submissive, and they followed at the heels of the big operators. The stock market writers dubbed them the "lambs"—the supply seemed inex-

REDUCING AUTO ACCIDENTS.

Certain Eastern states reduced automobile accidents about twenty per cent through license laws requiring examinations of all new drivers, and enforced by a centralized state motor vehicle bureau, according to Sidney J. Williams, director of the Public Safety Division of the National Safety Council. So far only seventeen of the forty-eight states have passed such laws, and all but five of these are in the East.

There is certainly something amiss when any person, irrespective of his mental and physical qualifications, is allowed to operate a potentially deadly machine upon the public highways. This condition has been unquestionably responsible for many of the 30,000 annual deaths in automobile accidents.

Hundreds of thousands of new cars go into use each year. Speed ranges are constantly rising. Traffic congestion becomes more and more a problem. It is the height of folly, under such conditions, to allow irresponsible, incompetent drivers to use our highways where they menace the life and property of every other motorist.

haustible, and curiously enough they always need more shearing.

As early as 1690 dealings in stocks in England had reached such magnitude as to be condemned by government legislation, and they were characterized by such absurdities as to be satirized by playwrights. On a busy day on Wall Street more shares are bought and sold than changed hands in the course of a year in the late seventeenth century. In the United States alone 15,000,000 prsons are investors in stocks.

This pulling, tossing and shearing has been going on long enough for the lambs to learn a trick or two in the way of escaping the shears.

In the city's paving program for the year there should be included the widening of several streets near the business section. The completion of these projects would not only speed up traffic in the highly congested districts but would eliminate the accident hazard to a great extent.

All our fears that Joe Grundy would no longer be a powerful lobbyist, when appointed to the senate, have been allayed.

Jaywalkers sometimes prove easy marks for persons hunting in automobiles.

The grin worn by a "good loser" is chagrin.

UNHAPPY.

Americans, who have always looked upon Europeans and Asiatics as unhappy, politically, socially and economically, are surprised to hear from a British author that Americans are the unhappiest race in the world. Anticipating our interrogations, he explains:

"Americans are unhappy because they have before them the wrong purpose of life—to make good. The cry, 'Make good,' is hurled out into the world with its brother stupid, tricky, insidious label, 'Service.' Wherever you go in America you hear the cry echoed and re-echoed, 'Make good!'"

He would not accept this American purpose in life for that of the Englishman, Chinaman and the African negro, which he says consists of "finding happiness in the thrills, the ecstatic moments in life that come from the simple primitive things, and contemplation, not action."

In this as in other things all depends on how you look at it. Americans may be unhappy until they "make good," but those other "happier" races, while they may not know the disappointments and sacrifices that come to those trying to "make good," never know the happiness that is the reward of having "made good."

Another thing is to be said for the American "purpose." The millions of American men and women who are trying to "make good" are producing that wealth which has brought greater comfort, ease of mind and happiness to the whole nation. Success is no longer won at the expense of others.

Author Powles to the contrary, most Americans prefer that unhappiness that comes from little reverses in "making good" to the unhappiness of famine and social and political revolution.

Quite a crisis arose the other day in French political circles: It was accidentally discovered there was no crisis.

ACREAGE CUT AND BETTER GRADE OF COTTON ARE URGED

DALLAS, April 4.—(AP)—Acreage reduction and production of better grade cotton were two objectives for the industry held up today before members of the Texas Cotton Ginners association in convention here.

During the day the convention expected to hear the report of a committee named to draft resolutions for presentation to Governor Dan Moody, urging him to veto the two cents per bale tax placed by the last legislature on all cotton ginned in the state. The tax bill was attacked yesterday by George Hagn, president of the association. In his address as being "undemocratic and investigating the commissioner of agriculture with all the powers of a Mussolini." He declared the bill would impose a $100,000 yearly burden on the ginners and accused the organization of "200 compressed in Texas" of having "shoved this bill off on the ginner."

JUDGE SAYS JONES LAW FAILS REACH EXPECTED RESULT

FORT WORTH, April 4.—(AP)—Federal Judge James C. Wilson stated today that the Jones act had not had "as much effect" as hoped for by those who brought about its passage.

In sentencing Dee N. Lee to 18 months and J. M. Hart to a year and a day in the federal penitentiary at Leavenworth, Kansas, for prohibition law violation, Judge Wilson commented that "bootlegging seems to be considered an easy way to get money" and "apparently there is not much hazard connected with the business." Lee and Hart were partners in a garage.

Nurse Tells How CARDUI Helped Her

Mrs. W. A. Cox, a well-known professional nurse, of Burnside, Ky., writes: "I was in very bad health, and only weighed 110 pounds. I read in the papers about Cardui, and thought I would give it a try-out. After I had taken one bottle, I could see that I was improving. After I had taken it a month or two, I began to gain, and I weigh at present 168, and have not had that for some time. I am now 55 years old, and can do as much work as the average middle-aged woman can."

"I would advise any woman who is weak and in a run-down condition, to try Cardui, but not to expect one bottle to make her well. I take two or three bottles a year, now, and I feel fine."

Seeking Italian For Deportation; One Man Is Slain

NEW YORK, April 7.—(Sp.)—An Italian anarchist, wanted for deportation, was sought today after he escaped arrest under cover of a fight in which one man was killed and a detective was beaten at an anti-fascist meeting.

Armando Borghi, the anarchist, had finished a speech at the meeting in Cooper Union auditorium yesterday when Vincent Peaggia, immigration inspector, walked on the stage with a deportation warrant for him.

Shouting "stop the police," Borghi fled while sympathizers in the audience swarmed about Peaggia. Detective Thomas L. Lenthal, in the back of the hall went to Peaggia's aid. He was knocked down and kicked and beaten. Regaining his feet he drew his pistol and fired one shot, killing an unidentified man.

Three men were arrested for felonious assault. Police reserves dispersed the crowd.

Seeking Italian For Deportation; One Man Is Slain

NEW YORK, April 7.—(Sp.)—An Italian anarchist, wanted for deportation, was sought today after he escaped arrest under cover of a fight in which one man was killed and a detective was beaten at an anti-fascist meeting.

Armando Borghi, the anarchist, had finished a speech at the meeting in Cooper Union auditorium yesterday when Vincent Peaggia, immigration inspector, walked on the stage with a deportation warrant for him.

He was knocked down and kicked and beaten. Regaining his feet he drew his pistol and fired one shot, killing an unidentified man.

HEAD DEMOCRATIC COMMITTEE WITNESS BEFORE LOBBY PROBE

SAYS HAS NO RIGHT COMMIT DEMOCRATIC PARTY ON PROHIBITION

WASHINGTON, April 4.

(AP)—Called for questioning in regard to his stand against prohibition, John J. Raskob, chairman of the democratic national committee, today testified before the senate lobby committee that he had "no right to commit the democratic party on either side of the question."

After testifying he had contributed between $65,000 and $66,000 to the association against the prohibition amendment, of which he is president, Raskob was careful not to mix his personal beliefs on prohibition with the affairs of the democratic national committee.

"My opinion," he said, "it that no one can commit the democratic party on this question except the national convention. I shall not try to influence any democratic member of congress."

The committee room was crowded with spectators as Raskob appeared. Three members of the lobby committee, including Senator Robinson, republican, Indiana, who asked that Raskob be called, and Senators Caraway of Arkansas and Walsh of Montana, both democrats, were present.

Caraway, chairman of the committee, questioned Raskob at first. The democratic chairman said he contributed $12,500 to the association against the prohibition amendment in 1928, $30,000 in 1929 and had pledged $30,000 for 1930, some of which had been paid.

Raskob said he thought some progress had been made toward modification or repeal of the prohibition amendment, but testified he took little part in the active work of the association. He added the wet organization was interested in the election of wets to congress "rather than in the persuasion of those in congress."

Under sharp questioning by Senator Robinson, the democratic leader said the association was not a lobbying organization, but added he was not sure of the correct definition.

F. Scott McBride, superintendent of the Anti-Saloon league, was one of the spectators in the crowded room. He stood in the rear and listened intently.

Frequent clashes between committee members developed as Robinson continued his questioning. At one point, Senator Walsh urged the Indiana senator to answer the questions put to him. An even more heated fight came after Robinson asked Raskob if he intended to resign his post as democratic chairman.

Both Caraway and Walsh objected and refused to let Raskob answer the question.

When asked if he would quit, Raskob said he intended to quit after reading an editorial in a newspaper published by Josephus Daniels, former democratic navy secretary, in which Raskob was commended for serving as a director of the Association Against the Prohibition Amendment while Democratic chairman.

Walsh broke in and shouted to Raskob not to answer the question. Robinson retorted that the same sort of question was asked Claudius H. Huston, former democratic republican national committee, while he was being questioned by the committee on his Muscle Shoals activities.

Chairman Caraway denied Huston had been asked by the committee if he intended to resign.

Raskob said the purpose of the association was to attempt by education to convince the people of the United States that the 18th amendment ought to be repealed. "Have you much hope?" asked Caraway.

"Making Progress," Raskob laughed before he answered. "Yes, I think I have a great deal of hope. We are making progress toward modification."

Raskob said the names of men comprising the board of the association.

"I note some Irish names on it, and I judge it is bi-partisan," remarked Chairman Caraway.

"Yes, I think there are more republicans than democrats on it," added Raskob.

Caraway asked Raskob if he had seen members of congress in regard to their views on prohibition since he became a director.

"No," said the witness.

Senator Walsh asked the names of other contributors to the association, but Raskob said he didn't know them, aside from Pierre S. DuPont, of Delaware.

Senator Walsh asked about charts giving statistics on liquor conditions hung on the senate walls recently by Senator Tydings, Democrat, Maryland. Tydings is a wet.

"Making Progress," Raskob said he did not know where the charts came from, but he said the association was "making an honest effort to ascertain the facts" and was "reducing these facts to charts."

Under persistent inquiry by Walsh, Mr. Raskob said he had been interested in the manufacture of liquor and so far as he knew none of those connected with the association were interested, now or in the past, in the manufacture of liquor.

Raskob said his contribution of $30,000 to the association in 1928 was made prior to his becoming chairman of the democratic national committee. He denied the accuracy of an interview published in the Philadelphia Public Ledger in which he was quoted as saying he wanted to get rid of the damnable affliction of prohibition.

Robinson asked Raskob if he knew how much money was spent by the association last year.

"I don't know," the witness replied.

"Would it surprise you to learn $465,000 was spent last year?" Robinson continued.

"I have no knowledge of it," Raskob answered.

No knowledge of Rayon Lobby. In answer to a question by Robinson, Raskob said he had spoken to no one about the rayon lobby in the tariff bill.

"Are you familiar with reports that you organized a lobby on the

CORSICANAN WILL VISIT OLD HOME IN GERMANY EARLY DAY

A. WEIDMANN SAILS FOR SEVERAL MONTHS TOUR OF EUROPE APRIL 12

Starting on a trip to the land of his birth which will later be followed by a tour of practically all the European countries, A. (Gus) Weidmann will leave Corsicana Monday for New York where on Saturday, August 12 he will sail on the giant Norddeutscher Lloyd liner Bremen for Bremerhaven, port city of Bremen, great shipping, cotton and industrial center of Germany. Mr. Weidmann will be absent some four or five months and will first visit two sisters who are living in Germany and then make a leisurely tour of all the interesting points in the various nations of Europe.

Mr. Weidmann is vice president of the Collins Street Bakery and is a substantial business man of this city and his friends are limited only to those who know him and he has a most extensive knowledge of life in Corsicana where he is recognized as an excellent business man and an all-around good citizen. This is his first visit to his old home since several years ago and after landing at Bremen and looking up Sterling Wood, former Corsicana cotton man, who has been located in Bremen for several years, Mr. Weidmann will go direct to Weidmanns, his native city, where he will visit with his two sisters and boyhood friends for some two months.

After leaving Weidmanns, Mr. Weidmann will visit other nations of the old world and view the principal points of interest as well as observe the changes that have taken place in European countries and cities since he left there and since his last visit. Among the places of interest will be the Passau where he was married in 1904 in its original setting. He has set no definite limit on his tour and will go where his fancy takes him and in a leisurely manner, thus enabling him to see all that is of interest and view and contrast the modern trend of the times with the conditions as he knew them in his youth.

Mr. Weidmann will cross on the third largest passenger boat in the world and up until a few days ago known as the speed Queen of the Seas, the great ship Bremen. A sister ship, the brand new Europa, on her maiden voyage a few days ago cut the Bremen's time for crossing from Bremerhaven to New York by some seventeen minutes, but the Bremen is still known as the mistress of the ocean waves. Having traveled across the waters before Mr. Weidmann has made complete preparations for this trip, having dispatched his trunk and other luggage which must be ready long before the ship sails; has his tickets and passports as well as letters from some of the leading United States government officials where he expects to visit which will aid materially in making his travels easier and more pleasant and interesting. On his return trip Mr. Weidmann expects to secure a permanent home for the Europa, the sister ship of the Bremen and will also sail from Bremerhaven. He is not only taking the best wishes of his great number of Corsicana friends for a pleasant voyage but is also conveying greetings from Corsicana friends to S. L. Wood, a former Corsicanan now residing in Bremen.

ORGANIZED LABOR MOBILIZES FORCES AGAINST NEW JUDGE

WASHINGTON, April 5. (P)—William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, told a senate judiciary sub-committee today that all organized labor is united in opposition to confirmation of Judge John J. Parker of North Carolina as an associate justice of the supreme court.

Green was the first witness at hearings of those opposed to the confirmation of Judge Parker, who was named by President Hoover to succeed the late Justice Sanford. Before Green testified, Chairman Overman of the judiciary sub-committee considering the nomination, introduced a letter from Governor Gardner of North Carolina and other North Carolinians endorsing Judge Parker.

"I have never known any man," wrote Governor Gardner, "who possessed a higher or a finer sense of righteousness and justice than Judge Parker."

Mr. Green said labor was opposed to Parker because of his decision unholding an injunction restraining the United Mine Workers from soliciting membership in the Red Jacket Coal & Coke company in West Virginia.

WASHINGTON, April 5. (P)—Organized labor mobilized its forces today in opposition to the confirmation of Judge John J. Parker, a san associate justice of the supreme court.

They with others were invited to appear before a senate judiciary sub-committee which has the Parker nomination under consideration and give their reasons for objecting to confirmation. William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, was ready to speak for that organization, while representatives of the five Brotherhoods of Railway Trainmen were here to testify also.

Labor's opposition is based upon a decision written by Judge Parker as a member of the circuit court bench in which he upheld an injunction preventing organized labor from seeking to enroll employees of the Red Jacket Consolidated Coal & Coke company. Representatives of the labor organizations assert that Judge Parker's decision reveals an attitude of mind that should bar him from the supreme bench.
